

DIAMOND M CATTLE COMPANY

BULL SALE

HIAWATHA, KANSAS

MARCH 13, 2024

Welcome to our 4th Annual Bull Sale! It has been very rewarding to see our genetics soar across the nation over the years, adding to many of your great programs. We thank and value you.

COME SEE THE BULLS. ANYTIME!

At DMCC we firmly believe in cow families. The right cow families build power, and we like power. Power in proven genetics and phenotype we can count on. Take a look at our Donor Directory on our website and view our previous sales.

Our bulls are in shape, not overfed, and they are developed slowly. You will find bulls that possess the look of the breed, something that is very important to us as longtime breeders. Whether you buy bulls or females from DMCC, our goal is to build herd quality in a practical way. Thank you for looking at our sale, and please, take the time for a visit with us!

• A few years ago, we led the sale offering with DMCC Stockman 124J. His success and consistency in his first calf crop have proven what we preached to bidders that year and every year. Pedigree, power, and performance. Three staples in the Diamond M program that we base breeding decisions and our own purchases on. Hilltop Simmentals, Back Home Farm Simmentals, and Billingsley Simmentals came together and trusted those very concepts. Stockman has thrived in their programs just as he has in ours. Calves are sorting their way to the top. We said it then and we will say it again, he is a perfect match for purebred cattle as well as half-blood females. Our first lot in the 2024 DMCC bull sale offering proves just that. Tracing back to the legendary Black Blaze III 3U(dam of W/C Loaded Up), this homozygous black and homozygous polled 3/4 blood provides an influential combination of smoothness, correctness, and phenotype. Love his head shape, slope of shoulder, and docility as well. An unbelievable way to kick off our offering for you here at Diamond M.

- I'd challenge you to find a half-blood SimAngus bull with more foot size and stoutness than this lot 2 bull. Out of a first calver, this double-bred half-blood has continued to dominate in both his growth and development. Hard to fault him as he shows this much functionality on the move as well. Further proving the usefulness of DMCC Stockman on all percentages.

• If you are looking for a marketable sire to sell semen on in the coming months, look no further. One of the more attractive sires in the offering, but he has quite the pedigree behind him too. Out of DMCC Destiny 222D, our most recent National Champion Purebred female, and out of True North, who was a past champion Simmental at the world beef expo, lot 3 is a marketer's dream. His structural power and thickness are unmatched, as well as his fluidity in motion.

• Like his brother, in the previous lot, there is a lot to admire about this soon-to-be herd sire. Think of what these full brothers could provide to a set of cattle, and the cattle to be retained. From a breeding point of view, this sire, purchased with lot 3, would be a heck of a pair to throw on a set of cattle, and not have to worry about the stress of artificial breeding. Feel confident that either one of these bulls will exceed expectations.

- We have found that the True North bull has provided a unique versatility to our program. He has worked in several ways but has always provided a desired product. This time by way of a Secret Weapon dam. This bull has a ton of maternal features that would make one believe he will be one, that you for sure, would like to retain females out of. But also is a sire that you feel would produce show cattle prospects, with that hair coat and youthfulness.

• If you have been following the Simmental breed closely the past few years, you have no doubt noticed the impact DMCC Eclipse 4E has had for Roberts Cattle of Montana. Producing many a bull and female show and prospective program building cattle for some great homes. 4E's full sister resides in our herd, DMCC 90C (yet to be pictured). She has been breeding very similar to her sis and is clawing her way to the top of our donor list. Lot 8 is one of the best Broker sons that we have had to date. Pound for pound as good from the ground up as you could ask. Love the foot size, the set of the hind leg, and the overall skeletal width of this bull. We all have seen the impact Broker had and has in the business. We feel this sire could provide many of the same attributes as his sire.

• Another opportunity at two full brothers. Purchasing both brothers (8&9) would be an easy way to get the pedigree or percentages you want. With these brothers, you have the added benefit of the style and appeal they possess, which will create a lot of different marketing avenues in the future. The solid black version of the brothers here in lot 9 is a touch longer fronted than his brother, but equal in terms of his soundness, stoutness, and squareness.

- Being a high-quality producer for Diamond M for years has been Secret Weapon's full sister DMCC 79D. You may have seen several of her Lock N Load bulls from her in past sales, and many have been popular year to year. The combination of Broker with her as well as Secret Weapon bred cattle has worked time after time. Cattle like the lot 10 bull, that travel well, have the belly swoop, depth and dimension are a must to help solidify a herd.

- As we move from the full sister of Secret Weapon in previous lots, to the sire group by way of Secret Weapon himself, the power and performance does not drop off. The influence of Sec. Weapon on our Angus females on the ranch has worked as well as any cross-mating we have tried. Length of spine, foot size, bone quality, and adding a little white on their heads, have been just a few of the traits expressed. Another great bull in our stacked percentage lineup.

- Like any producer, I think it is evident that we believe in the strength of our bloodlines. We tend to use some of our own bulls. Last year we ran DMCC Keystone on bred females that were then sold in our 2023 female sale. Lot 13 is full brother to Keystone. His dam the Queen Miles T5 has been one of the top donors at Diamond M for the past several years, and we feel her stock will add to her dominance in your herd. • It's always a great feeling to see customers succeeding with Diamond M genetics. DMCC Anna 27A has had a big impact in Cardinal cattle's Simmental herd in their Relentless daughters out of her. Their past bull offering showed a hefty average of her decedents. DMCC decided to go ahead and try her in a different way to the popular STCC Tecumseh pedigree.

We plan on trying more of him in the future. And look forward to getting more robust middled, true tracking, beef bulls that resemble lot 18. He will find his way onto many onlooker lists.

- Sires having DMCC Annabelle 3A as a dam has proven, in recent years, to be semen sellers. With the likes of DMCC Hiawatha, DMCC Hitman, DMCC Black Velvet, the list is certain to go on and on. She has seemed to have the Midas touch when it comes to bull marketability. This sire has continued to progress in maturity with ease and has the look that suggests an outstanding-looking big bull.

As the years move forward, we are finding ourselves noticing the complimentary and comparative herd sires that he can produce as well. As a DMCC Capone son, he naturally throws fleshy sturdy offspring, that keep the milk in the females. We would expect DMCC Stonewall 50L to follow suit.

• Three-way cross cattle are as popular as ever today. Whether it be for the added hybrid vigor, or for the added benefits of crossbreeding. We have liked the way that it has softened up some older Simmental genetics, while still keeping the desired look we all crave. With the Black Blaze III 3U female, we decided that sometimes combining good cattle with good cattle is just the right thing to do. Adding our powerful lineup of our Maine-Angus genetics to one of our top two producing Simmental females and her offspring. We can't talk enough about the structural correctness, fleshy appearance, and soundness that will be added to your herd, in adding one or all of these sires.
